Hornets take flight into NAIDOC week celebrations and host a deadly morning training session at IHS.

This year the Irrawang Clontarf Academy hosted a NAIDOC morning training session alongside Irrawang High School NAIDOC Week celebrations. It was a fun filled morning which we had the pleasure of having teaching staff of IHS and our local partner Woolworths come through and get an insight into our "morning training" sessions and also our academy room. Like every morning training session we have on a Tuesday and Thursday, breakfast was made and served by our very own Director, Cliff Sampson and Clontarf boys to our guests and other academy members.

All round it was a deadly session with great energy pumping through the whole morning and even better effort from our boys who continue to "Get Up Stand Up Show Up" each week for training and school. Special thanks as well to our Clontarf partner Woolworths for supplying breakfast for our NAIDOC training session.
